

REGISTERING FOR TERMIS-EU-007

What do you get for the Registration Fee: We realise you have a choice of conferences, so much so that choosing is a problem. Costs in London are inevitably high – but worth it. Your conference time is precious, travel/hotel costs still apply (in fact, flying into London is relatively cheap), so saving a few €/£ on registration can be false economy. TERMIS-007 is full of opportunities:

- This is a top quality, high level conference specialising only on TE&RM.
- Quality shows in opportunities to network & learn at a global rather than regional level.
- London is in an Internationally leading centre for Biomedicine– THE centre in Europe.
- This means there are more potential Framework 7, Biomedical partners per km² in London than anywhere else on the planet: so meet them - visit their labs.

Your registration fee pays for meeting location & facilities, invited speakers, organisation and refreshments over the conference period. There is a free UK-China satellite workshop (4th Sept: limited numbers) and many other special interest sessions. *Registration already includes a meeting fee which will be transferred directly to TERMIS. For transparency, this is made clear on the payment form (£55/80€ or £15/20€ for students). Registrants will be offered TERMIS membership. Questions on TERMIS membership, please address directly to: swilburn@termis.org

Discounted rates are available for registrants from EMERGING regions, as well as for students (with confirmation of status: see payment form). There are also discounts for bulk registration from the same group -1 free student for every 10 full registrations sent together: e-mail for details.

Early Registration Deadline: 15 June 2007
